
Title: Journal

Author: Filberto The Tinker

I swear, could the gargoyle have suggested any place worse to mine for shadow ore? I have been running non-stop since my arrival, only to hide in the tents to draw away the aggressive gargoyles and mechanical beasts I see.

I have procured enough raw material now to make a tuning fork. However, I still lack some information on how to assemble it correctly. I finally recovered some of Ironhand's old notes. If I take them to an artist, they can draw me precisely what he detailed in his journals.
